

Albatross

Albatross measuring the width of the ocean with wayless, timeless measure.
Soaring, seemingly effortlessly gliding in the howling headwind pleasure

Coming from Cape Horn in the far far west, in lazy spirals on its way Heading for stormembraced Cape Horn in the east, in roaring forties play ://:

*Coming from nowhere,
Going to anywhere
Sailing...*

Widewingedly wilfully resting roaming stormridden Southern High Seas where the wind wants to go or not wants to go Southern Pole circling with ease ://:

*Coming from nowhere,
Going to anywhere
Soaring...*

Only the one who has understood to turn life into beautiful art Can soar with no effort head on to the headwind
Can heal the holes of your heart ://:

*Coming from nowhere,
Going to anywhere
Soaring...*
